LITTLE DIPPER

Our cover picture will introduce you to "Little Dipper", the pony which will be yours if you are the holder of the lucky program number of the Regina Winter Fair Horse Show.

"Little Dipper" is a fine four-year-old black gelding pony, standing thirteen hands. He was bred and raised by Mr. E. E. Dunbar of Dunbar Pony Farms, Kronau. Mr. Dunbar is a breeder of note, with a special interest in driving and Shetland ponies. He has been a regular and successful exhibitor at the Regina Horse Show for the past ten years.

"Little Dipper" is a cross between a Blood mare and a Shetland stallion. The very nature of his ancestry gives him the qualities of intelligence, pluck and soundness and ensures the combination of the friendly quiet disposition of the Shetland with the liveliness of his mother's breed.

He is a pony with a sparkling personality and is an excellent choice for a child.

He comes to the lucky winner complete with riding tack.

Proudly Presents

THE JUDGE

Our judge this year is Mr. C. Fred Kohler of Middleburg, Virginia. He comes to us with a lifetime of experience with horses. He has been an owner and trainer for many years and has been in demand as a judge for the last seven or eight years. He is a Senior Judge on the list of the American Horse Shows Association. This is his first assignment in Canada.

In keeping with the policy adopted by the Regina Exhibition Association several years ago of bringing the best men available to judge this Horse Show, we are happy to welcome Mr. Kohler to Regina.

FOLLOWING THE SHOW

Breeds and Types of Horses

American Saddle Horse

THREE GAITED

This classification includes horses shown under saddle at three natural gaits: Walk, trot and canter. Style requires their manes to be clipped short to accentuate their long arching necks; a high tail clipped short near the root and action and brilliance at all three gaits.

FIVE GAITED

This classification of the American saddle Horse requires two additional gaits developed through training, namely the slow gait and the rack. These two additional gaits give the horse a particularly smooth and rhythmical motion, the beauty of which is enhanced by flowing manes and high full tails.

Fine Harness

This is a further classification of the American Saddle Horse, these entries being shown in light harness to a four-wheeled wagon. Speed is not required but the horse should be extremely showy and move with the air of an aristocrat.

Hackneys

"Hackneys" are a breed of horses or ponies notable for high action with front and hind limbs. The breed originated in England in 1755 and was also popular in France and Holland. When hackneys are lined up in the show ring they "spread" by extending the fore and hind legs. This dates back to the days when carriages were in general use, and horses were taught to spread so they could not move suddenly when a lady was stepping in or out of a carriage. When a horse is spread, he must collect his legs together before starting to move.

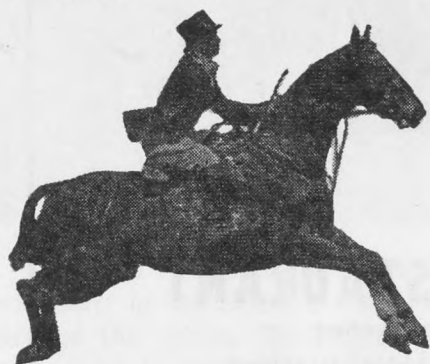

Jumpers

These horses provide the thrills of the show as bars are raised in case of ties. Faults only are scored and style and manners are disregarded.

Hunter

A hunter is a horse used under saddle which could be used for the purpose of following hounds across country. They must have endurance, smooth way of going, speed and jumping ability. They are divided into three weight classifications: lightweight carrying up to 165 lbs.; middleweight up to 185 lbs., and heavyweight over 185 lbs. Conformation: hunter classes are judged both over fences and then stripped for judging of types. Thoroughbred horses are often used in this division. Within the hunter classification also come the handy hunter in which performance, manners and way of going are considered alone (no conformation).

CALF SCRAMBLE

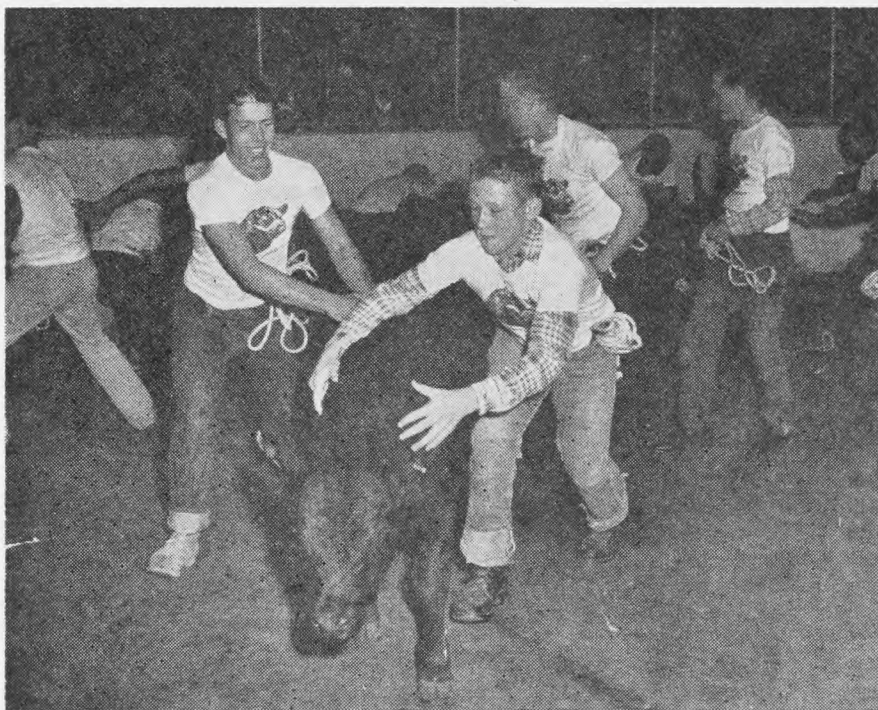

This event will take place on each of the four evenings of the Horse Show, March 26th, 27th, 28th and 29th. See daily programmes for times.

The competition is open only to boys 14, 15 or 16 years of age who are members of 4H Clubs in Southern Saskatchewan.

The purposes are three-fold:

1. Foster 4H Club Work.
2. Encourage the feeding and breeding of better live stock.
3. Entertainment.

Eight calves and approximately sixteen boys will participate. A calf becomes the outright property of the boy who catches it.

This Calf Scramble has been made possible only through the generosity of the firms, breeders and private individuals who have donated the calves. The Regina Exhibition Association wishes to express its appreciation to these donors who, by their generosity and co-operation, have shown their interest in encouraging the breeding and feeding of better live stock. We thank them on behalf of the boys taking part and recommend their consideration when procuring goods or services available through them.

RULES OF CONTEST

1. Boys must be bona fide members of a duly organized 4H Club.
2. Only one boy from each 4H Club may participate.
3. Each contestant will be supplied with a rope halter.
4. Each boy will attempt to catch and halter one of the calves. The boy catching a calf is required to move it across the finish line without aid. However, he must not try to move the calf toward the finish line until the halter is placed on the calf properly. If a boy has hold of a calf, no other boy will be allowed to touch the calf until it breaks away.
5. If a contestant catches a calf by the tail, he will be given reasonable time to work around to its head, otherwise, the referee will order him to let the calf go.
6. If after the judge declares ownership, the calf breaks away, it remains the property of its first captor.
7. If two or more boys catch the same calf, it will be turned loose.
8. If a contestant comes into possession of a calf already haltered, he must drop his own halter.
9. Undue roughness will not be tolerated by the referee. Poor sportsmanship automatically disqualifies a contestant.
10. Contestants not catching calves will be awarded consolation prizes.
11. The Regina Exhibition Association will not be responsible for any accident that may occur in connection with the Scramble.

"WHERE HORSEMEN MEET"

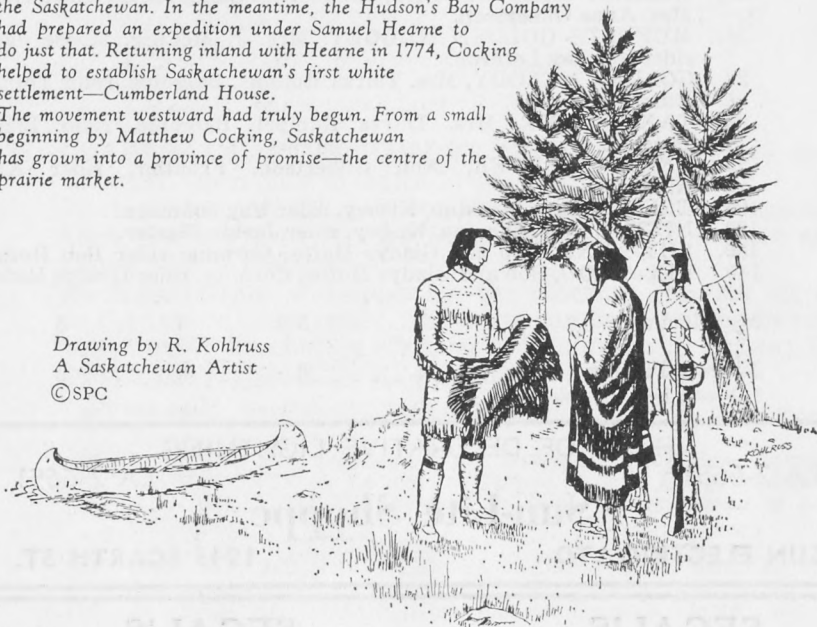

Mr. & Mrs. David Martin — Proprietors

Pioneers of Progress

—MATTHEW COCKING
Founder of Saskatchewan's
First White Settlement

"The Peddlers", French and English fur traders from Montreal, moved on to the prairies in the 1760's, reducing the quantity of fur to the Hudson's Bay Company's trading posts. Facing this threat, the Hudson's Bay Company sent Matthew Cocking inland in 1772 to investigate the establishment of posts on the Saskatchewan River. After exploring the North and South Saskatchewan and meeting with the Indians for two years, he returned to the Bay and recommended the establishment of trading posts on the Saskatchewan. In the meantime, the Hudson's Bay Company had prepared an expedition under Samuel Hearne to do just that. Returning inland with Hearne in 1774, Cocking helped to establish Saskatchewan's first white settlement—Cumberland House. The movement westward had truly begun. From a small beginning by Matthew Cocking, Saskatchewan has grown into a province of promise—the centre of the prairie market.

Drawing by R. Kohlruess
A Saskatchewan Artist
©SPC

Ideally situated in this centre of the growing prairie market, Saskatchewan—and the Saskatchewan Power Corporation—offers new opportunities to new industries. Just as the province has grown and developed from a small beginning at Cumberland House almost 200 years ago, so has the Saskatchewan Power Corporation grown and developed, particularly in the last two decades.

Today an electrical grid covers all urban and rural areas in the settled portion of the province. As the Saskatchewan River system provided the key to future development in Cocking's era, so today the Saskatchewan Power Corporation is utilizing this tremendous resource with two hydro stations under construction and others planned—to meet the ever-growing provincial power requirements.

Good Judgment

It takes good judgment to select and train a champion for exhibition in a show. It takes good judgment as well as qualities of fine horsemanship to get the most out of a horse in the ring.

It takes good judgment in many fields to make a successful farmer. Saskatchewan farmers display good judgment every time they deliver grain or livestock to Wheat Pool facilities. They have received the best in service at their Wheat Pool for over 37 years and they know this excellent service will be maintained.
